Aethir's scalable node infrastructure meets surging demand for GPU compute power in AI and gaming.

Singapore, February 26, 2024 - Aethir, a leader in decentralized GPU cloud infrastructure, has announced its upcoming Node Sale. Starting March 20th, individuals and organizations worldwide will be able to participate in Aethir's decentralized cloud infrastructure network by running nodes and earning rewards for their contributions.

Aethir is an enterprise-grade GPU-as-a-service provider that offers a novel solution to the world's increasingly urgent compute shortage. The Aethir network supports the growth of GPU-reliant sectors like AI and gaming by aggregating and intelligently redistributing new and idle enterprise-grade GPUs at scale. Through its decentralized cloud computing infrastructure, Aethir enables GPU providers to power sophisticated gaming and AI applications globally. Today, Aethir's infrastructure supports cloud gaming providers with flexible and coverage and is partnered with some of the world's largest gaming and telecom companies that make up Aethir's dynamic two-sided network.

The world's transition to cloud infrastructure has become a massive trend,
